

SUPERVISOR OF THE YEAR

Lieutenant Vernon Wachter

Lieutenant Wachter has mentored many firefighters over the years. He takes his job very seriously and he understands the importance of helping individuals develop skills and career goals. Lieutenant Wachter gladly shares his historical knowledge of Frederick County's fire service with those expressing interest, and, he demonstrates, by example, what teamwork is really all about. Many employees having served under him have progressed through the ranks to become Lieutenants and Battalion Chiefs.

Lieutenant Wachter is extremely proud of his profession, he is very dedicated to the Frederick County Division of Fire & Rescue Services, and he daily demonstrates the leadership qualities necessary to perform his duties.

Throughout his career, Lieutenant Wachter has served as Union President for the career firefighters Local 3666 Union, and as Assistant Fire Chief at the Middletown Fire Department.

For the above reasons, Lieutenant Vernon Wachter is proudly honored today as "Supervisor of the Year."
